Curlett Cannon & Galbell (CCG) was established in 1976 as a professional Customs Brokerage firm. We quickly realised that by introducing a premium forwarding service by both ocean and air to our strong client base, we would provide for a total international logistical solution to importer and exporter alike.

Having identified mainstream markets, CCG set about selecting partners in countries and areas that encompassed the major industrial centres of the world. These partners were not only proficient in facilitating movements of cargo in all modes; they also understood a provision of cost efficiencies in these movements would mean significant increases in business in these important trade lanes.

Whether it is by oceans, LCL or FCL, by air, import or export, CCG provides full logistical solutions at very competitive prices for your product. Our experienced staff can assist you with every formality and understand the discerning clients' needs.

Curlett Cannon & Galbell will tailor make a service that suits all your requirements. We thoroughly investigate all avenues of the logistical cycle to ensure your product arrives at its destination in a timely, efficient and economical manner.

Curlett Cannon & Galbell has close ties with all major shipping lines, airlines and overseas partners. We also realise that prompt communication is the key to a successful client/service provider relationship.

For your convenience, we accept Visa or MasterCard credit card payment via our BPay facility.
