Swift Metal Services is a second generation component manufacturer who provides high quality service for companies with specific manufacturing requirements, Australia-wide. With clients in manufacturing, mining, tunnelling and major infrastructure sectors, we have a strong track record for supplying both manufacturer's production requirements and componentry for construction projects.

Swift Metal Services' in-house manufacturing facility is not only capable of producing quantities from 50 through to millions, but also has experience with materials ranging from mild steel and stainless steel through to aluminium, copper and PVC plastics.

Our in-house turnkey facility can implement design changes and developments to Australian Standards quickly — providing quality and reliability that you can depend on. This translates to fast, efficient service that meets your exact specifications as well as your deadlines for delivery.

FREECALL 1800 626 525

With a commitment to staying at the cutting edge of manufacturing, Swift Metal Services continues to invest in advanced technology and equipment. This includes a fully automated 110 tonne power-press, integrated with a servofeeder and straightener-decoiler, is capable of over 100 cycles/minute and feeds over 500mm/second for material 3mm thick by 400mm wide. Fast and precise, the machine delivers high quality results at a reduced cost for our customers.

COMPONENTRY GUARANTEED

All components produced by Swift are fully guaranteed, as are planned stock deliveries. In addition, our unique audited job tracking system ensures that your job can be identified at any stage of production.
