Wall Cladding Systems

A great way to introduce long-lasting character, flare and personality to your home. Not only can wall cladding and panels dramatically change the exterior look of your home, but it can also keep your family cool in summer and warm in winter. With an ever growing range of finishes and designs, one thing is for certain it provides a modern, futurist and distinct look to your home. Aluminium Composite, Designer Wall and Thermal Wall Panels are undeniably durable, flexible and light weight and are now being touted by architects as the look of the future. The possibilities are endless in designing your home.

Render + Paint

Cement render, acrylic coatings and paint go hand in hand and are one of the most effective ways to transform the initial impression and appearance of a home, not to mention being one of the most popular. The main purpose of rendering and acrylic texture coating is to give your façade an extra element to its appearance. It also provides flexibility and strength, resulting in a long lasting finish with superior barrier properties. Also render and acrylic coatings assist in reducing natural erosion and provide protection against weather damage, as well as contributing to your homes overall insulation. Acrylic texture coatings come in a range of textures and colours that will compliment your homes natural surroundings. Smooth render can simply be painted with a colour of your choice - depending how daring or adventurous you are, the opportunities are boundless with colour schemes.

Awnings + Louvres

These fashionable items really make a statement about you and your home by adding a modern, stylish and classy flare to your façade and outdoor entertaining areas. Providing comfort and protection to your family from the outdoor elements, most come with automated features to enhance the experience. Made using extruded aluminium that is finished either anodised, or in a high UV resistant powder coat paint finish, with all fixtures and components being high-grade stainless steel. Smart use of awnings and louvres adds to the energy efficiency of a home.

Glass Balustrades + Handrails

Glass balustrades not only look impressive and fashionable, but also provide a feeling of additional space. Frameless and semi-frameless balustrades (mini-post or glass clamps) can be installed on balconies, stairs, void areas or used as a privacy screen. Stainless steel parts are available in high polish or satin finish, giving you peace of mind against unsightly rust and corrosion that has plagued so many facades as a result of cheap and second rate products.

Landscape & Gardens

This is the icing on the cake. To ensure you have done justice to your homes new façade, you must not make the mistake of neglecting your garden. You can really make a statement by planting striking plants that accentuate architectural features and contribute to the overall impact of your home designs.
