What does it look like?

Why are we not in the Apple App Store?

We started writing the application as an iPhone application however found that this meant that we would have to create more than one system to also support the Android platform. Apple's recent announcement that they would enforce a requirement that subscriptions must be available through iTunes and that the cost would be 30%. This reduces the ability of MyPhoneVouchers.com to support community groups so we had to find another way. It also means that we support all devices that support HTML-5. We will be doing more development to support additional phones.

This section is for our supported groups to advertise information about their groups and services.

Generally there is no offers in this section just details about locations times and events that they are doing.
